ASSESSMENT INSTRUCTIONS (to be completed in a practical lesson)

1. Students work in small groups (3-5), they are given limited equipment (listed below) and have 10 minutes to design a modified activity to meet the needs of the participants (listed below).
2. Students are given one piece of A4 Paper and must write a clear and simple plan on it (must include a diagram) of their modified game. When the students have completed designing their drills they are to place their plan under one of their cones and then rotate around in a clock wise direction and attempt each other's drills.
3. On the rotation groups go to another group, pick up their plan and attempt the drill.
4. At the end of the lesson students must complete a feedback sheet on 2 sessions (see feedback form attached).
5. When completing the feedback form students must consider the following aspects; does the drill cater for the needs of the participants? was the plan easy to understand? have they utilised the limited equipment effectively? was it fun and enjoyable to attempt? does it develop the basic fundamental movement skills?

PLEASE NOTE: marking criteria states "innovative movement sequences" this meaning the activity must be creative and original (students are encouraged to think outside the box)

Participants = 15 x 8-year-old primary students who are developing basic fundamental movement skills.
